

Homework 1 - Weather

When ever I need to check the weather, I just glance at my phone. It tells me the weather where I currently am in Celsius , with a little icon that tells me if its cloudy/snowing/raining/night/sunny etc. as shown in the pictures below. I can usually get a good enough idea of the weather just by looking outside, so I only really care about the temperature to know how many layers I may need.

